

Detroit Zoo Event Make your reservation TODAY for July 20, 2019

All are invited to a Detroit District Dental Society Zoo Day on July 20, 2019. This program includes a admission to the zoo, family picnic under a pavilion with kid craft stations, private seating, and special DDDS science station for the kids. Parking is not included ($7.00 per car). If you have a family membership please call the DDDS Office at 313.337.4900.

Come see the new Polk Penguin Conservation Center a 33,000 sq. foot facility with over 80 penguins.

The Polk Penguin Conservation Center is the most extraordinary place for penguins in the world. Among the most spectacular features of the 33,000-square-foot facility is a 326,000-gallon, 25-foot-deep aquatic area where visitors can watch as more than 80 penguins of four species explore their habitat. An underwater gallery with a vast acrylic window and two acrylic tunnels provides breathtaking views of the birds above, around, and below. It allows guests to get nose to beak with the charismatic birds! Reminiscent of a tabular iceberg with a crevasse and waterfall, the striking exterior conjures the stark and beautiful Antarctic icescape – right in the heart of Southeast Michigan!

DDDS will sponsor a private science station for kids at our event to learn about animals and teeth. How do their teeth compare to animal teeth?

Zoo Dentist Science Station – private station at picnic location for Dental Zoo Day Attendees.

Kids will have a chance to discover some amazing facts and learn about the needs of animals and the complexities of our wonderful planet. Last year this special science station was a wonderful success. This year we will have a new topic and just as much fun. This is targeted to kids in elementary school. There will be some enhanced information for middle school kids. Optional art and craft take home project.

Special photo station for a take home photo memory for all families and members.
